

Weekly Wild Wednesday

For December 2nd, 2020

Our Thanksgiving of Unusual Circumstances was both relaxing and peaceful.

A Thanksgiving Poem to Loess Hills Wild Ones was sent out with gratefulness for all the interesting and enjoyable things they provide to our lives.

The weather was perfect, and many of us went on Nature Hikes, Picnics, and Shoreline Seed Gathering kayak and dog walking excursions!

The seeds gathered were spread at a nearby project in the Crofton area.

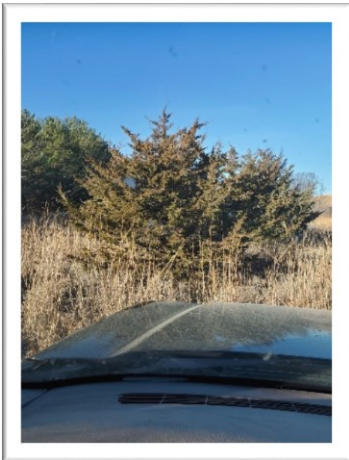

Mercedes gathered grapevines and aggressive Cedar greenery and made beautiful Holiday wreaths.

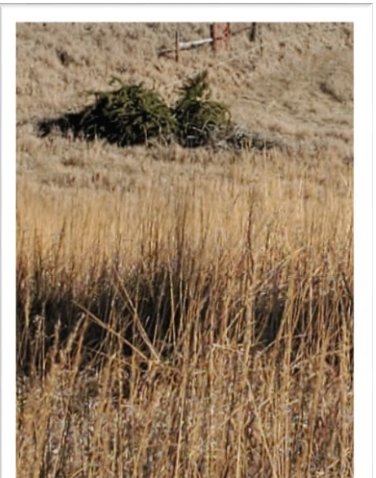

Tom and Cheri painted a gorgeous Pallet Art Project! What fun!

trees removed from the 'Great Green Glacier' of cedars.

Ruth made a 'Habitat Heap' for birds, bugs, and wildlife with the Sara provided a lovely bio which will soon be posted on the Loess Hills Wild Ones Web Site! Thanks Sara!

Interview with Michelle Biodrowski

Melissa Peterson

Save the Dates: Carrie shared the idea for a future Loess Hills Wild Ones speaker-- and a link to a video-- by Organic Bob on Bee Lawns. www.organicbob.com

December 12th is the Members Only Holiday Party.

Ruth is working on a “Grow Wild With Us!” Zoom for January 10th.

Dianne is finishing up the touches for a future presentation on the Flower Sale January 24th, and also a program with Michelle Biodrowski on March 14th.

Dotty and David will present on February 21st. Elisa reserved all dates on Zoom.

Jeanne would love to have Fall leaves dropped off at Agape (1421 Geneva) if anyone has extras for composting, and plans a Backyard Composting Class at a future date.

Please Send any photos or text for next week’s Wild Wednesday!

